HISTORICAL SKETCH

Beverly, today, secure in its past, splendid in its present with a glorious future before it is observing the Two Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary of its incorporation as a Town.

Beverly, one of the finest cities in Essex County, Massachusetts, is in North latitude, $42^{\circ} 36'$, and longitude $70^{\circ} 63'$ West of London. Sixteen miles from Boston and twenty from Newburyport, by the turnpike measurements, Beverly is beautifully located on the North Shore of Massachusetts bay. It is twenty miles distant from the tip end of Cape Ann and forty-five from the point of Cape Cod.

Settled in 1630 by Roger Conant, John and William Woodberry, and John Balch, the little settlement has grown and prospered with the passing of the years. Twenty-five years ago Beverly joined the ranks of municipalities of the old Bay State and today has a population estimated at 24,000.

John, Sagamore of Agawam, once owned the territory of the old Naumkeag of which the Beverly of today is now a part. In the early days of the settlement, the old Indian chief gladly welcomed the colonists for they assisted in protecting him and his tribe against the powerful enemies, the Tarrantines.

For the protection and as evidence of good will he made them a free grant of the entire territory. Years later, grandchildren of Saga, the old chief, set up a claim against Beverly, and it was settled, upon the payment of £5, 6s and 8p.

Tradition tells us that the first settlement was at Woodberry's point and that the first child born in the settlement was of the name of Dixey.

In 1647 the inhabitants of the settlement were released from being called to watch in Salem, except in times of danger and in 1665, the Bass River settlement was permitted to exercise some of the powers of the town although still subordinate to Salem.

Three years later on October 14, 1668, the anniversary of the day we celebrate, the Bass River settlement was incorporated as a town. Its name, Beverly was taken from the old English town of Beverley in England and Salem was obligated to furnish suitable lines and bounds.

Beverly, the settlement of two hundred and fifty years ago, is a lively municipality today. History shows that Beverly men since from the time of King Philip's war to the present day have been loyal and patriotic to the core.

It was at Bloody Brook in South Deerfield that Capt. Thomas Lothrop and his men, the "Flower of Essex," had such a terrible loss. The town sent men against the Indians at Fort Narragansett; Beverly men engaged in the Sir William Phipp's expedition to Canada; in the Louisburg expedition and furnished men all through the colonial days, fulfilled every call made upon her.

In the Revolutionary days, Beverly men fought bravely and left their impression upon the country's history.
